Way back when in Oxford

At its recent annual Peach Festival, the Oxford Historical Society announced the winners of the "People's Favorites" — historic photographs on display in St. Peter's Episcopal Church hall, for guests to admire and then choose as best in the categories of "Most Interesting Family," "Most Interesting Clothes" and "Best Depiction of Old Oxford." Seen at right is a Stebar family photo of Carrie Pratt, which tied for "Most Interesting Clothes," and above a picture of Peter Popowski with his team of work horses, among top picks in the "Best Depiction of Early Oxford." Visitors enjoyed homemade peach shortcake with peaches from the Belinsky farm and Rich Farm ice cream.
